

2022 Federal Election – Policy Platform

The Internet Association of Australia (IAA) has sifted through the policy platforms of the major parties for the upcoming federal election. This is our assessment of their policies in comparison to our Election Wish List.

IAA is an independent and strictly non-partisan organisation. This assessment is solely representative of our evaluation of the stated positions published in the respective political parties' policy platforms. It indicates what we wish to see from our political leaders to promote the growth and health of the internet industry in Australia.

For further detail on IAA's policy standards and criteria, please refer to our 2022 Election Wish List.

Policy	ALP	Greens	Liberals	Nationals
Improving Access to Market for Small ISPs	💩	💩	💩	💩
Improving NBN Co Performance	💩	💩	💩	💩
Improving NBN Network Performance	🌸🌸	🌸	🌸	🌸
Better Internet for Regional and Rural Australia	🌸🌸	🌸	🌸🌸	🌸🌸
Addressing the Skills Shortage	🌸🌸	🌸	🌸	🌸
Rebuild Industry-Government Trust	💩	🌸	💩	💩

Key:

— somewhat meets IAA's criteria

— satisfactorily meets IAA's criteria

— fails to meet IAA's criteria/lack of mention of policy

NB: Only the major political parties that have consistently received over 10% of votes in opinion polls from Jan 2022 were considered in this assessment. The Independents were not included due to the varying platforms of each candidate. Policies were assessed at 11 May 2022.
